In Memoriam To

Pamela Marie Stevens March 5, 1956 - November 9, 1978

There's an open gate
At the end of the road
Through which each must go alone
And there in a light we cannot see
Our Father claims His own;

Beyond the gate your loved one
Finds happiness and rest
And there is comfort in the thought
That a loving God knows best.

Our dear friend Pamela Marie Stevens began her vibrant life March 5, 1956 in Jersey City, New Jersey. The daughter of Dorothy and Fred Stevens was a gift from God to enhance the sunshine in their lives. To her brothers Collier, Tracy and Fred Jr., Pam was a gift of merriment and love.

We can all remember Pam a lover of humanity. Her work with the neighborhood Youth Corp. showed us she cared. Her work at the Job Corp. Center showed us she wanted to be a part of the growing world. Dealings with her friends showed us Pam was loved.

As a student at West Virginia State College, Pam was highly enthusiastic about her career in education. Her delightful wit enabled her to share a communication with children, as well as adults, that many of us have not experienced.

Pam was taken tragically, but with God's help, we will come to the realization that her physical being may no longer be with us, and the ones who truly cared for Pam, will keep her loving spirit alive in our hearts forever.

In Memoriam To

David M. Dunn
October 18, 1955 - March 9, 1979

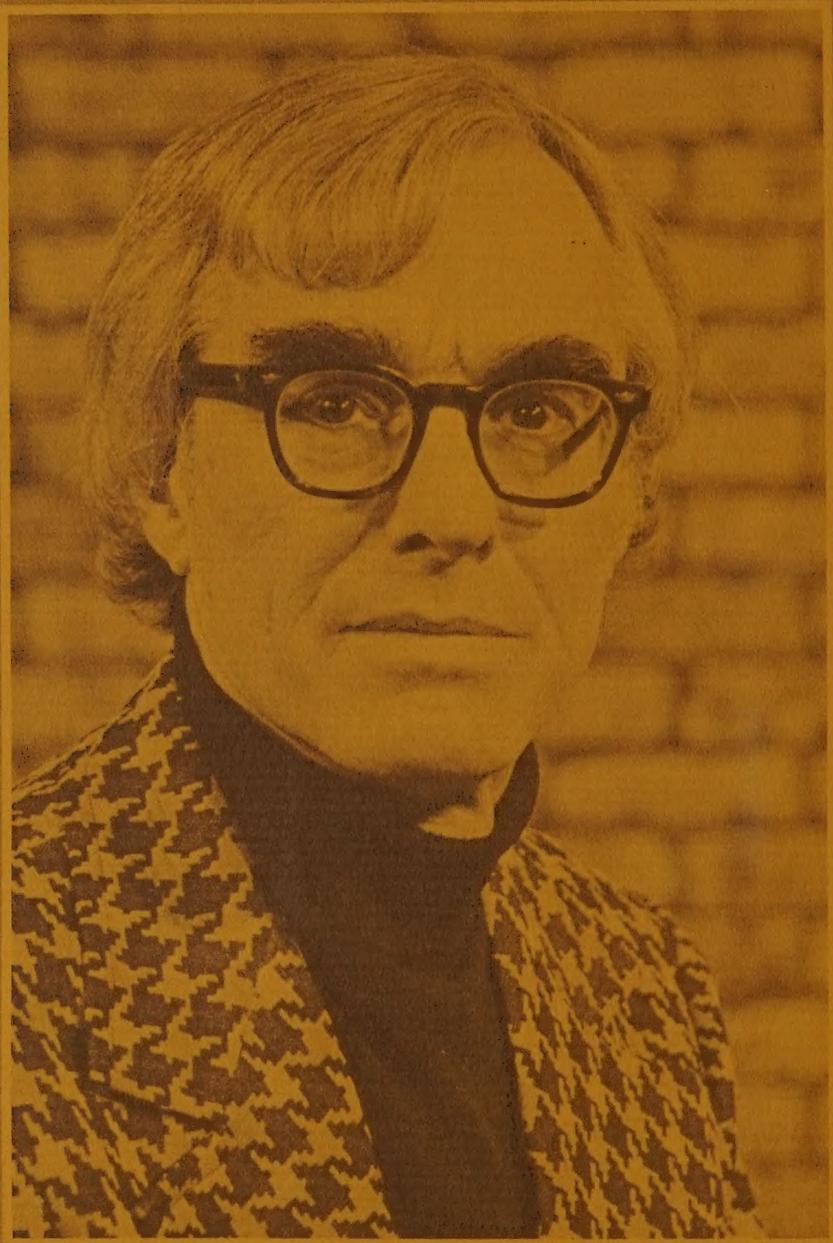

We live in deeds, not years:
In thoughts, not breaths:
In feelings: not in figures on a dial.
We should count time by heart-throbs, He most lives
Who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best.

—P. J. Bailey

These words portray the memory of one whose contributions as a scholar and a leader at West Virginia State College and in his community enriched the lives of many. His compassion and dedication, quiet humility and zeal for service to others were qualities of an innate goodness he possessed that engendered love, admiration and respect of everyone who knew him.

He was a 1977 Summa Cum Laude graduate of West Virginia State College with the degree Bachelor of Arts in History and was enrolled at Southeastern Bible College in Lakeland, Florida. His long list of honors include: President of the Youth Fellowship, Student Publications Committee, St. Albans Senator (Student Government Association) 1975-1977, Yellow Jacket Editor-in-Chief (1976-1977), Yellow Jacket Chief Photographer (1974-1977), Yellow Jacket Reporter (1974-1975), Secretary of Alpha Kappa Mu Honor Society (1976-1977), Special photography assignments for The Arch and Public Relations, Co-Chairman of program development for Phi Alpha Theta History Honorary Society, and Member of Alpha Phi Omega National Service Fraternity.

A part of David M. Dunn will always live in the memory of those whose lives he touched.

The Dedication

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE YEARS OF DR. EDWIN D. HOFFMAN AT WEST VIRGINIA STATE COLLEGE

Dr. Edwin D. Hoffman came to West Virginia State College in 1960 as Assistant Dean of Instruction and Professor of History. He brought with him a continuing concern for academic excellence which helped inspire the faculty to continued professional growth and development.

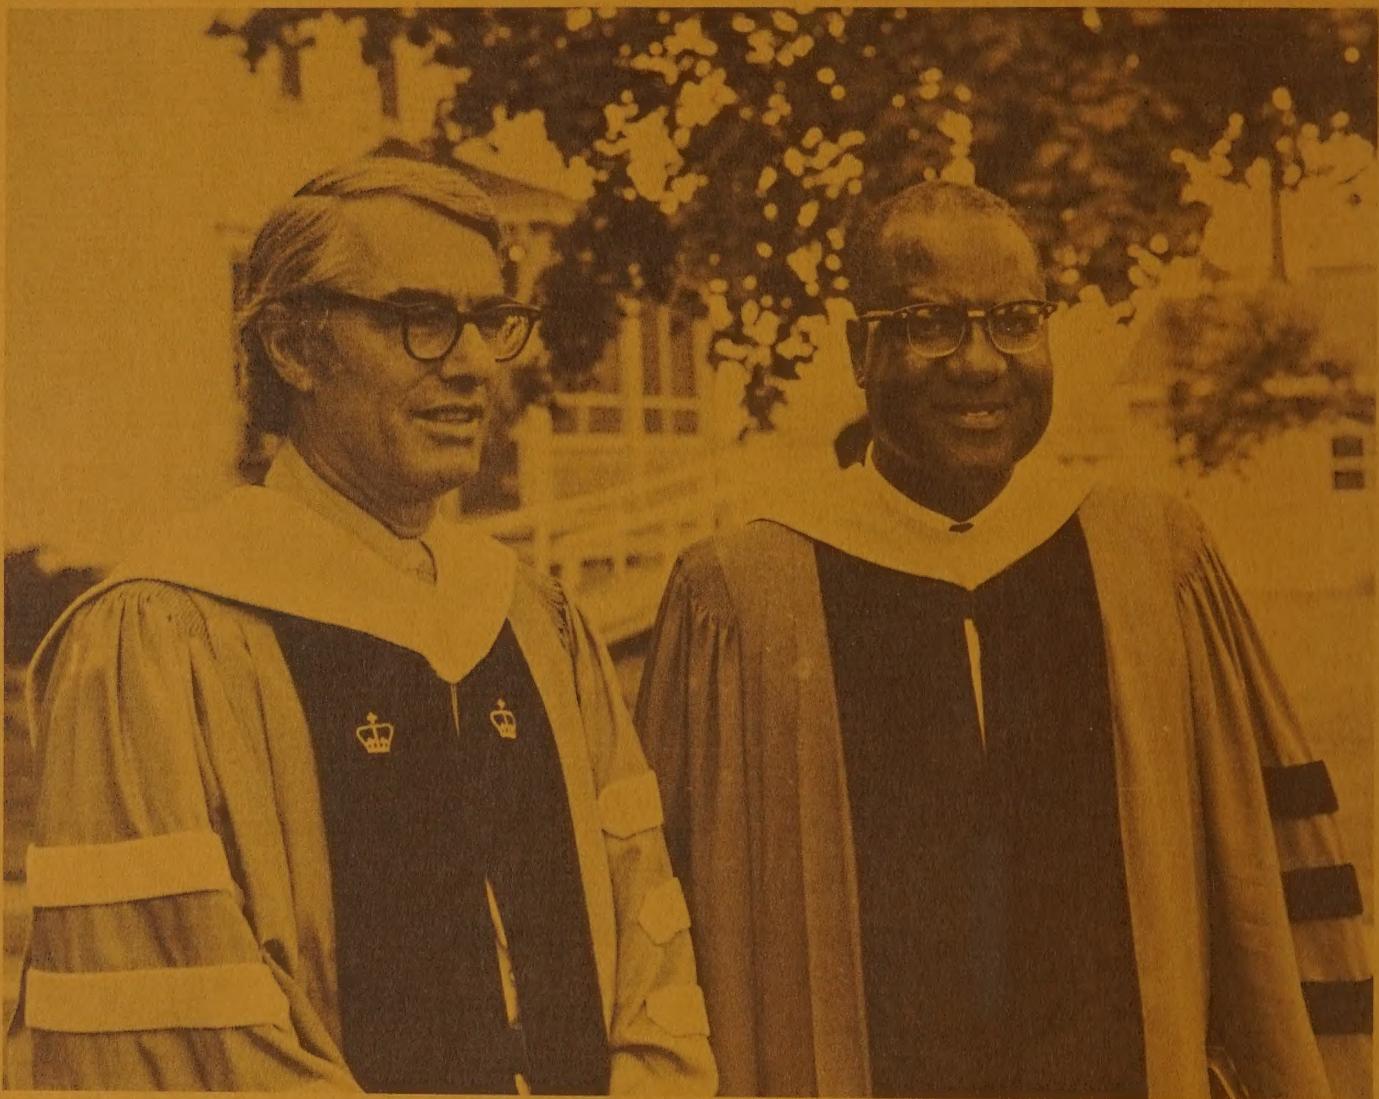

In 1966 he was named Dean of Instruction, a post in which he served until he returned to full time teaching in the History Department in 1975. The 60's were restless, troubled years, and Ed Hoffman proved to be a man for the times. Always mindful of the black heritage of the college, he demonstrated a deep awareness of and compassion for the impending change in America, as exhibited by an aggressive program for the recruitment of black faculty and students and the introduction of black studies courses into the curriculum.

He brought new insights into the nature and quality of the college curriculum which led to the development of a widely recognized innovative program which came to be known as the "New Curriculum". This curriculum provided for new and broader ways for students to learn and for professors to teach. During his tenure as Dean of Instruction his home became an intellectual center for students and faculty as he continuously sought constructive avenues for the expression of student concerns. Always on the side of the socially and economically disadvantaged and oppressed, he assumed leadership roles at various times in the NAACP, the Kanawha County Council on Human Relations, Multi-CAP, the Kanawha Peace Commission, and the Better Schools Council.

When other avenues of communication failed, he was found in the streets of the nation's capitol demonstrating for civil rights and against the war in Vietnam, and in the streets of Charleston demonstrating for open housing and on behalf of striking sanitation workers.

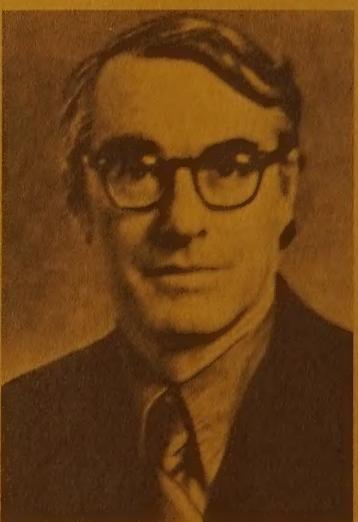

His social activism grew out of a profound conviction that democracy is not just a word, but must be a reality for everyone. This conviction is reflected in his book Pathways to Freedom, published in 1964 which recounted episodes showing the role of groups of common people struggling for democratic rights. The years of Edwin D. Hoffman brought enrichment to the campus of West Virginia State College and they are woven indelibly into the tapestry which is the history of this institution.

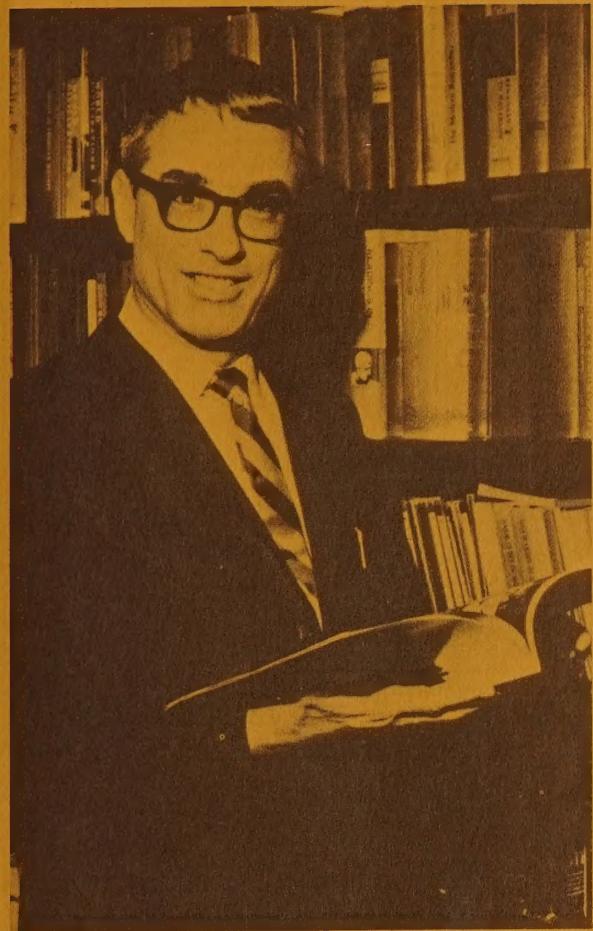

We are all better for his having been a part of it.

WEST VIRGINIA
STATE COLLEGE

Chartered in 1891 as West Virginia Colored Institute. Land-Grant College from 1891 to June 30, 1957. Name was changed to West Virginia Collegiate Institute, 1915, and to West Virginia State College, 1929. Desegregated in 1954.

The birth of West Virginia State College came about as a result of the Land Grant Act of 1890 (The Second Morrill Act) enacted by Congress which provided that no state would be able to receive Federal Aid unless Adequate provisions were made for the education of its black youth. The legislature of West Virginia passed an act establishing the West Virginia Colored Institute in 1891. The main purpose of the institute was to train Blacks in agriculture, horticulture, mechanical arts, and domestic science. Tuition was free and the only charge was a matriculatuin fee of $1 per term.

The College integrated in 1954. President J. L. Wallace led West Virginia State College to become one of the most integrated institutions of higher learning. West Virginia State College is highly accredited by the North Central Association

West Virginia State College

In January 1978, the college recommended to the Board of Regents the employment of The Eggers Group, P.C. of New York City for the development of the plan. Information development for the plan involved all academic and administrative departments at the college. Academic departments prepared statements of their program plans for the next 5-10 years. Along with review of the written documentation, staff of The Eggers Group conducted more than 50 interviews with faculty, administrators, and students. Interviews with staff of the College of Graduate Studies were conducted to assess the needs of COGS on the WVSC campus. In addition, a team of seven architectural and engineering specialists spent four days on campus conducting inspections of each building and reviewing specifications for building structures and mechanical systems. Traffic consultants engaged by The Eggers Group undertook a survey for the better part of a week to determine the flow of vehicles on campus streets and surrounding roads.

The estimated total cost of the improvements at West Virginia State College is 25 million dollars. Included in the development will be three new buildings. A Community College Building, housing the programs for Industrial Technology, Consumer Services, and Community College administration, a Natural Sciences Building to replace Hamblin Hall, and a new Field House - Gymnasium which will replace Fleming Hall. After construction of the new buildings, the old ones will be demolished. Buildings which will receive extensive renovations include the Drain-Jordan Library, Wilson Student Union, and Jones Hall. The library will also receive a major addition. Currently in progress is a thorough renovation of the Administration Building. All other buildings will have improvements that are related to utility services.

In October, The Eggers Group team presented their preliminary recommendations to the college. After review by the college's staff and the submission of a number of recommendations, the final documents were prepared for presentation to the Board of Regents in January 1979.

The campus development plan appears in three volumes. The first volume surveys the condition and needs of the college's buildings and grounds, and presents recommendations for overcoming the deficiencies cited. Volume Two presents the planning data that were used for developing the space needs for the college's instructional, athletic, and administrative activities. The third volume presents the scope of the proposed plan with recommendations for new construction, renovation, and changes in the campus grounds.

The Master Plan

The layout of the campus will change so that activities are distributed more evenly over the central quadrangle. Traffic and parking patterns will be altered by shifting vehicular traffic to the perimeter of the campus. New sidewalks and malls in the center of campus along with extensive plantings will provide a more attractive setting. The attached summary shows the phasing of these developments.

The facilities master plan looks to the future of West Virginia State College. It is a future which will promise enhanced higher educational services for the metropolitan Charleston region.

The Center for Instructional Technology (CIT) represents the "coming of age" of the former Learning Resources Center. While its predecessor, CIT involves a broader concept of both structure and function.

Housed in several locations on the first, second, fourth, and fifth floors of Wallace Hall, CIT provides instructional support services for West Virginia State College and the West Virginia College of Graduate Studies. It performs its function essentially through six sub-units.

The Arch Staff's special salute to the hard workers of the Center for Instructional Technology or CIT. Congratulations for your effort and thanks for your dedication.

Connie Hunt
Office Manager

CIT is proud of its staff of ten persons. All have specialist training and extensive experience in their specific areas and degrees ranging from associate to doctorate.

In Appreciation

The ROTC Department extends its appreciation to Mrs. Goldie C. Pickens for twenty years of dedicated service as the ROTC building custodian. Through her efforts, the department consistently received laudatory comments on building appearance and maintenance during each of its annual inspections. Mrs. Pickens will retire in the summer of 1980. Not only will the college lose a truly dedicated employee but most importantly this department will lose a loyal and very close friend.

His guidance and encouragement has contributed to the success of many. The department pays special tribute to "Doc" as he is known.

The Experiences

The look of annoyance on this student's face is common for commuters that have to deal with finding a parking space.

If this is what you see as you approach the bus stop, then you've either just missed your bus or everybody ran when they saw you coming.

This brother finds little difficulty in overcoming the various complexities that occur during the course of a school day; with an easy-going frame of mind, he keeps his sanity by simply "hanging loose".

The cafeteria is not just a place to enjoy a meal; it's probably the most common place that resident students get together to relax and socialize among one another.

This scene of the jammed-packed cafeteria gives you a fair notion of the high-quality food served that no one seems able to resist.

BELOW: Gee Wiz. Chicken and potatoes again.

LEFT: You don't rush me, young man; you're not at McDonald's!

BETWEEN: The Snack Bar is the main lunch spot for many commuting students.

RIGHT: "You only go around once in life, and you've got to grab for all the gusto you can get."

LEFT: "It's a new brand called 'Body on Tap'."

RIGHT: "Look at you. Over just two beers you get blasted!"

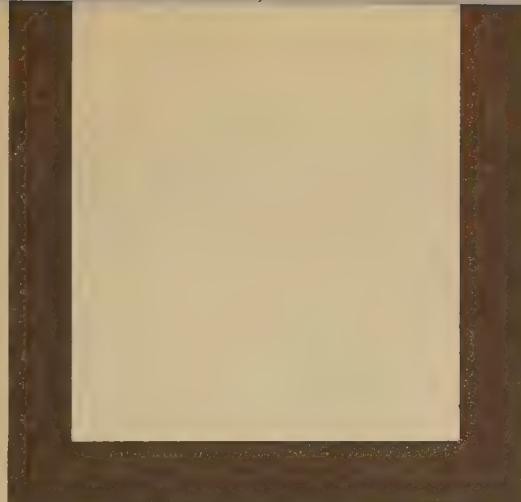

Our first snowfall of the year proved to be a burden to most commuters . . .

. . . but a lot of students found many ways to make the best of it.

State finally shuts down school because of snow on February 8, 1979.

LEFT: Gore Hall - an experience to remember.

At State, anything that can happen under the sun—usually does.

ABOVE: Time Square or Square times?

Taking time out to search for self-identity and purpose in life is an essential and meaningful point of every individual. Finding the strength and incentive to strive forward, even when your perception of the future is clouded or distorted, is an obligation that we all must see through.

..... "If you were only in my shoes"

The interrelation between Faculty and students to share ideas is a frequent occurrence at WVSC.

The Happenings

"I think we oughta call a priest."

"Surprise! You're on Candid Camera."

The Union pep rally

"This is station number one, number one"

Georgetown 14-9

West Virginia State's youthful football squad started off the 1978 season on a sour note with a 14-9 loss to Georgetown, Kentucky at Georgetown. The Yellow Jackets had a 9-0 lead going into the final quarter but saw it slip away when Georgetown struck for two quick scores in the closing minutes.

It was obvious from the very beginning of the season that State was a much-improved team. The offense showed much promise with the edition of half-backs Anthony Weaver and Larry McGee, quarterback Harold Wicks, and Junior College transfer Ellis Spann at flanker.

The defense had some new faces, too; Troy Eichelberger was the new right-side linebacker, and Milton Spradley was his counter-part on the left side. Another new face on defense was cornerback Sam Curry, who played quarterback last year. Teaming up in the super quick secondary with Curry was junior John Stone and All American Candidate Terry Atkinson.

Head coach Oree Banks, in his second year at State, was beginning to build the foundation for his revitalized football program. Banks seemed to be right on schedule all year long with the development of his young squad. Banks' coaching assistants during the 1978 season were: Mike Smith, offensive line; Dwayne Woods, defensive backs; and Richie Taylor, backfield. Larry Lewis and Lamar Davis were the student assistants.

In their first home game of the '78 season, West Virginia State outlasted a stubborn West Virginia Wesleyan 24-19 for their first win of the year.

Larry McGee was in top form as he ran for 160 yards and one touchdown. Running mate Anthony Weaver chipped in with a spectacular 73 yard TD run as the Jackets finished with 323 yards on defense.

Cornerback Terry Atkinson intercepted a Wesleyan pass and sprinted in for the score in sparking a tough, aggressive State defense. It was during this game that freshman quarterback Harold Wicks began to get the attention of the WV State coaching staff. Wicks played the entire second half and earned the QB job permanently with a fine performance: "Wicks handled the team well," observed coach Banks. "He's a leader."

State 24-19

State 20-0

Cornerback Terry Atkinson, in a brilliant performance, intercepted five Glenville passes, setting up two scores as West Virginia State rolled over Glenville, 20-0.

Defense was the name of the game as the Jackets notched their first shutout of the young season, sparked by Atkinson, Troy Eichelberger, Larry Pickens, Will Collazo, and Warren Breckenridge.

The game was played at Glenville's all new Pioneer Stadium on a rain-soaked, slippery turf. The slick field slowed down State's potent running game, but halfback Larry McGee still managed to pick up 108 yards and two TD's.

Freshman quarterback Harold Wicks, in his first collegiate start, directed the offense with 59 yards passing and 68 yards rushing; flanker Ellis Spann had a sensational 38 yard TD catch.

Concord 25-6

West Virginia State's Yellow Jackets suffered their first conference loss of the season to the hands of Concord College, 25-6. Concord, a perennial conference powerhouse, went on to win the conference title and the annual Coal Bowl.

After a scoreless first quarter, Concord exploded with 18 points on four scores to jump out in front and coast to victory.

State got on the board with just one second left when freshman quarterback Tyrone Smith hit Ellis Spann on a 36 yard halfback option. Spann, a 6'1" junior from Hattisburg, Ms. had his best game of the year with 47 yards on three catches and one TD.

The final score of the game came on a one yard run by Concord fullback Steve Brinkley to end the scoring at 25-6.

Freshman standout Anthony Weaver broke loose for four touchdowns and State's tough defense chalked up its second shutout of the season as the Yellow Jackets buried West Liberty, 41-0. With 3:12 left in the first half Anthony Weaver cracked up the middle for a one yard TD. In the third quarter it was Anthony Weaver's turn again, once on a one yard plunge and then on a 13 yard run. Freshman quarterback Harold Wicks got a piece of the action in the fourth quarter when he ran a perfect bootleg around the left side for a two yard TD. The freshman finished the afternoon with 129 yards passing, hitting six of nine attempts. State's ever improving defense held West Liberty to just 90 yards on the ground. Freshman linebacker Milton Spradley enjoyed his best game of the year; middle guard Warren Breckenridge had another fine performance. Terry Atkinson had one interception. Kicker Jim Thompson of Ravenswood kicked five of six extra point attempts.

State 17-10

The West Virginia State Yellow Jackets maintained their cool under a lot of pressure to pull out a hard-fought 17-10 win over Fairmont State College to spoil Fairmont's homecoming. Fairmont's Matt Morris put Fairmont out front 7-0 on a two yard run. State answered that TD with a 15 yard pass from halfback Anthony Weaver to flanker Ellis Spann to make the score 7-6, Fairmont.

State went out in front for the first time on a 20 yard field goal in the third period to give State a 9-7 edge. Fairmont jumped right back on top with a 32 yard field goal to make it 10-9 Fairmont. Freshman speedster Anthony Weaver came through in the clutch with a one yard run for a State touchdown with just 2:00 remaining in the game. Troy Eichelberger set a State record with 22 tackles to earn him WVIAC Defensive Player of the Week.

West Virginia State celebrated Homecoming '78 with a 14-9 win over winless Bluefield State to up their record to 5-2 on the season. Both of State's TD's came in the first half. With just four minutes game in the game QB Harold Wicks connected with tight end Ronnie Ward on a picture perfect 34 yard TD pass. The Jackets scored again when Wicks broke loose for a 93 yard touchdown on a quarterback sneak. It was one of State's biggest plays all year.

Bluefield kicker Barry Reed kicked three field goals to account for the Big Blues scoring.

State's defense once again set the tempo of the game. Sophomore safety Sam Curry picked off two passes. Bluefield's QB Von Jaymes was taken out of the game early following a vicious tackle by State linebacker Milton Spradley.

The win kept State in second place in the conference standings, just percentage points behind Concord.

State's Bart Batten returned a punt 93 yards for a touchdown and linebacker Milton Spradley had an excellent game on defense to lead WV State past Salem, 18-13.

With Salem holding a 13-10 edge in the fourth quarter all-purpose running back Bart Batten zipped 93 yards for a TD on a punt return, shattering all previous WV State records in the department. Freshman linebacker Milton Spradley was named WVIAC Defensive Player of the Week with 22 tackles, three quarterback sacks, two broken-up passes, and one TD on an interception.

The State defense left fans breathless at the end of the game when they stopped Salem on the one yard line with :00 showing on the clock. Sophomore tackle Warren Breckenridge made the final tackle to insure the win.

Larry Pickens had 16 tackles on the day and cornerback Terry Atkinson had 12 solo tackles and one interception.

State 18-3

West Virginia Tech 0-14

Why? Why was premier safety John Stone told not to dress for State's game with WV Tech? It wasn't for discipline reasons. And it wasn't because of Stone's play—he had been doing well all year long. State football supporters never got a straight answer to this puzzeling question, but whatever the reason was, it backfired on the State coaches because WV Tech penetrated the State secondary (where Stone played) for a season-high 152 yards passing to beat State, 20-14. Stones quickness, strength, and experience in reading quarterbacks was badly missed by State's secondary which had its poorest showing of the season. Tech quarterback Mike Estes engineered three scoring drives that yielded 13 points before State even got a first down. Tech dominated the entire game, allowing State just 54 yards rushing and causing three fumbles.

Incidentally, the soft-spoken John Stone was demoted for the rest of the year after this game, without any explanation from Coach Banks or his staff.

Shephard 17-14

Saturday, November 11 was a very sad day for West Virginia State football. In the final game, played against Shephard on the Rams home field, State had a field goal ruled "good" only to be overruled by the head official. Fans and players alike were utterly outraged at the bum call. The game still remains clouded on controversy. State finished the season with a 6-4 record, quite an improvement over last year's 2-8. Coach Oree Bank's squad had a lot of positive points this season—the offensive was much more potent, the defense seemed quicker and more aggressive, and the team seemed more cohesive. Freshman quarterback Harold Wicks came out of nowhere and took charge of the offense. Troy Eichelberger and Milton Spradley swarmed all over opponents with constant heads-up play. Terry Atkinson enjoyed still another highly successful year in the defensive backfield; at one point in the season he led the entire nation in interceptions. Warren Breckenridge and Joe Black plugged up the middle of State's defensive line. Anthony Weaver and Larry McGee gave state the running threat that they so desperately needed. Ellis Spann and Ronnie Ward proved to be good receivers for Wicks' strong passes, passes that improved with every game. And State's husky offensive line was solid all season.

The year 1978 was a turning point in the football program at State—Banks plans began to unfold, his work and dedication began to pay dividends, his team began to take on a new direction. All in all, 1978 was a good year for West Virginia State's Yellow Jackets, and we at the Arch would like to congratulate the players, the coaches, the assistants, and other supporters for a fine season!

ARCH

WEST VIRGINIA STATE COLLEGE YEARBOOK

To the members of the Arch Staff, I salute you for your dedication and long, loyal hours of hard work. Together we have assisted in the completion of more than one thousand yearbook pages. Our greatest achievement this year was the positive steps to reorganize the Arch Office for the future publications.

The 1979 Arch family is a unique group of talents working for the betterment of West Virginia State College by providing a visual review of our past in order to build a better future.
